“Not to know what happened before you were born is to be a child forever.”
--Marcus Tullius Cicero, Roman orator and statesman

We are all products of history. Imagine waking up one morning without any memory. How would you function in society? Even more importantly, how would society function if everyone’s memory vanished? Students of history recover and analyze the past, preserving memory and learning from it. In doing so, they gain an appreciation of how crucial historical perspective is to being a well-informed, engaged citizen of both the United States and the world -- because historical literacy also entails the ability to understand people different from ourselves, an essential skill as all corners of the globe become increasingly connected.

Customary professional opportunities for History majors include teaching and law, and many History majors have gone on to graduate school in History and other fields. But the future for those who have studied the past can be almost anything. History majors succeed in many fields because they learn analytical and critical thinking skills and become adept in both oral and written communication. Careers of recent graduates bear this out. Our majors have gone on to jobs in business management, finance, tourism, government, medicine, and non-profits as well as taking advantage of opportunities in public history, archival work, historical societies, and museums.

Required courses for the History major
The History major requires the completion of 36 credits, 18 of which must be at the 1000 level, distributed as follows.

Core courses

U.S. History
One survey course from the following list
HIST 0600 United States to 1877
HIST 0601 United States 1865 – Present
HIST 0670 African American History 1
HIST 0671 African American History 2

Global Understanding
One course in four of the following six categories
Africa
Asia

Skills
Each student must take the following sequence of two courses.
HIST 1001 Introductory Seminar
HIST 1000 Capstone Seminar
Note: An upper-level writing-intensive (W) course may be substituted for HIST 1001. The alternate course should be taken as soon as practicable. HIST 1001 must be taken before enrolling in HIST 1000.
Concentration
Three additional courses are to be selected by the student with the help of a faculty member or the undergraduate advisor to form a chronological, geographic, or thematic concentration, which should normally be decided upon by the junior year.

Elective History course
Any course offered by the Department of History

Grade requirements
A minimum GPA of 2.0 in departmental courses is required for graduation.

Satisfactory/No Credit option
Majors may elect the S/NC option for a total of nine credits excluding HIST 1000 and HIST 1001.

Writing (W) requirement
Students must complete at least two W-courses in the major (ordinarily HIST 1001 and HIST 1000).
Honors major requirements
Honors in history consists of fulfilling all requirements for the major, plus an additional six credits for a total of 42 credits. Honors students must take the following courses:

one University Honors College (UHC) course in History (which may count toward another requirement for the major, e.g. Global Understanding or the concentration).

The following three courses should be taken, preferably in sequence.
- HIST 1901 Independent Study
- HIST 1000 Capstone Seminar
- HIST 1903 Honors Thesis (students write a paper of 25-50 pages)

Students may apply for the honors program in their sophomore year upon completion of 12 credits in history with a minimum GPA of 3.5 in history, an overall minimum GPA of 3.35, and the submission of a writing sample for approval by the Undergraduate Committee. No grade below B is acceptable in fulfillment of honors requirements.
